DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1, 27-32 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on 04/25/05.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 14 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Aoki (US 4513450) in view of Moss et al. (US 4950868) or Batcheller et al. (US 5032705) or Orban et al. (US 4764665).

Aoki discloses a baseball glove having the claimed limitations except the heating means for heating the glove.

Moss et al, Batcheller et al., and Orban et al. separately disclose a heated gloves having a heating means for heating at least one finger stall. It is noted that the claim as written does not obviate the use of a separately heated glove worn inside a catching mitt.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 2-13, and 15-26 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for indicating allowable subject matter: the prior art of record is replete with teachings of heated gloves, however, the prior art does not explicitly teach nor suggest a heated baseball glove/mitt having the integral combination of limitations as claimed. The closest prior art teaching suggests a heated glove for use in cold weather sports, particularly snow skiing. One of ordinary skill, in the opinion of the Examiner, would not look to the sport of snow skiing to modify the structure of a baseball catching glove.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
